

MISSION STATEMENT

The stated Mission of Agro-Culture Liquid Fertilizers is “To Prosper the Farmer.” The company as a whole, its employees, and associates individually are expected to conduct both business and themselves in a manner consistent with the corporate Statement of Ethics.

Statement of Ethics

Agro-Culture Liquid Fertilizers will be completely honorable and forthright in all its business standards and relationships. We will avoid all deceptive and/or illegal business practices and will refuse to countenance such practices in either employees or associates. It will be the standard of business practice to serve the beneficial interest of the customer at all times.

All products offered to our customers will be the best available and their quality will be consistently maintained at the highest level. We will fairly represent our products by relying upon performance data developed through credible research based upon recognized agronomic principles. We will provide those products at the best price to which the customer is entitled.

We also believe that the personal behavior of employees and associates reflects directly upon Agro-Culture Liquid Fertilizers. The expectation for all who represent the company directly or indirectly is that the highest standards of personal conduct will be observed in terms of morals, ethics, and leisurely pursuits.
